Profile: A highly regarded liberal arts institution, Lebanon Valley College is located near Hershey in central Pennsylvania. The College is distinguished by innovative, high-impact, and customizable learning experiences. The College provides broad and challenging curricular offerings that include in-demand, specialized majors—supported by technology with global reach. Their culture is one of warm, respectful, and supportive relationships that promote personal growth through creative risk taking. LVC has a college-wide devotion to community outreach.

Why we are members:

The World Trade Center Harrisburg provides LVC students with internship opportunities and numerous services. LVC is proactively expanding its international program connections for study abroad programs, and emphasizing an international presence in its overall college curriculum through notable guest speakers and visiting foreign professors.

Lebanon Valley College is nationally known for its transparent and generous academic scholarships. Their automatic Presidential Scholarships are clear and simple. Students in the top 30 percent of their high school class qualify for an automatic LVC scholarship worth one-quarter to one-half tuition in addition, numerous other financial support opportunities.

“Our aim is to educate graduates who are thoughtful, confident, adaptable, and prepared—to excel in their careers and make meaningful contributions to their communities.”
